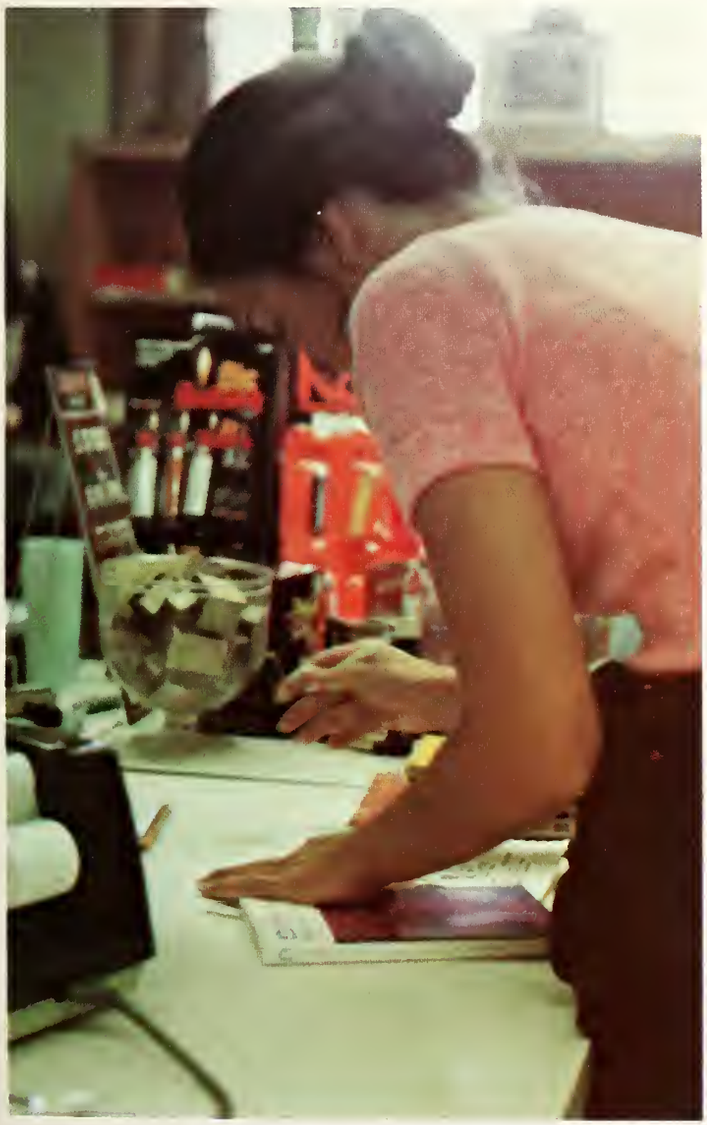
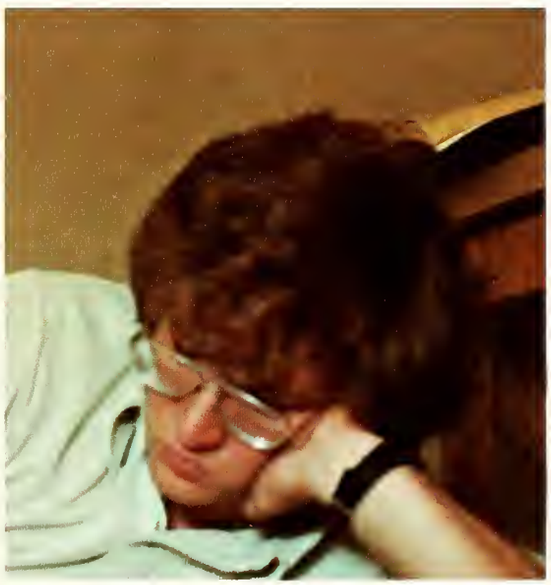
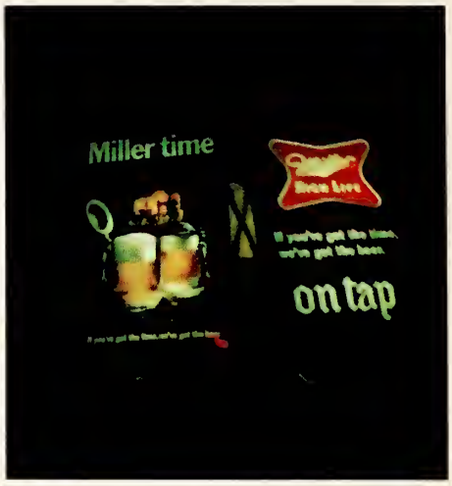
Spring Hill College
Mobile, Alabama

Studying all night for an exam at 8 a.m. is bad enough, but no letter from mom is a perfect end to a perfect morning. But they aren't all like this . . . some are even worse!







Miller time
on tap

But, despite the work we have our own means of spending spare time. From dancing to drinking, freaking to streaking, we all find time to unwind in sundry ways and to remember . . .

that we're all in this together.

STUDENT LIFE

ORIENTATION

This is where it all begins; your first taste of Morrison's, maybe your first trip to the Gulf. You laughed over each other's accents, remember? "People from New York, Chicago, Biloxi sure sound funny." A few new friends made. And then there was that awful Freshman Talent Show . . .

This page, right: Father Tipton marks the close of 1973 Freshman Orientation by concelebrating the Mass of the Holy Spirit with fellow Jesuit faculty members.

Right: "You're not going to take our pictures!" Gerry Galle and Patti Freeman hide from the cameras.

POWDER PUFF

Once a year in October, the girls crowd the guys off the Library Field for a game of Powder Puff Football. The Freshmen play the Upperclassmen in a game they can't win. (But some years they come awfully close!) And of course there's a dance later on where the girl asks the boy she's had her eye on all year.

Directly above: Peace . . . but at all costs Victory! At the game's start Mary Lu Hunter flashes a peace symbol. Above left: "Hope I didn't hurt you." Harriette Hunter makes a friendly gesture to an underclassman. Below left: Assured of victory, Regina Cashman grins confidently while Colleen Walsh wipes the dirt away.

BEER BOWL

Every year in the fall, the four fraternities attempt to solve the question of "Who is the best?" through playing the Beer Bowl Games. This year the ADG fraternity emerged victorious for the first time, taking the crown from last year's winners, Omicron Sigma fraternity.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS

After a close race with Sid Leak, Gray Hicks and Mike Schwartz providing strong contention, George Ackels became the '74-'75 S.G. President.

The Yenni Players present . . .

Teetering about on giant cable spools, sliding down firepoles, pretending to be walls . . . all of this seemed to come naturally as the Yenni Players spoke their lines. They made it seem so easy!

Right, Jon Green and Mr. Kaffer play Pyramus and Thisbe over the wall—Joe Wight. The rest of the members of the company look on. Below, Terry Yemm pleads for the hand of Deb Dusseault. Below right, Tom Butterick takes the lion's part in the play-within-a-play. Opposite page, John Baugh, Charlie Smoke, and Brenda Rhodes are ready for opening night.

OMICRON BIKE RACE

Right, Cyclists wind their way around the designated track. Below, Last minute preparations are made for the big race.

Left, And the race is on! Below left, Faster than a speeding bullet . . . Directly below, "Hey you guys, wait up!"

We wanted to bring you some streaker pictures on these pages but we couldn't find any that were, uh, discreet enough, or for that matter, clear enough. (Streakers move so fast that their pictures blur.) So you'll just have to settle!

PARENT'S WEEKEND

On Parent's Weekend, people clean up their rooms, girls wear dresses all the time, Father Tipton comes out, shrubs and flowers get planted . . . and everyone acts as if this is normal.

HONORS CONVOCATION

DERBY DAY

Derby Day allows us to return to being kids again. Once a year, we play in the mud, Tau pledges play "dress-up", . . . and everyone has a really good time.

Directly above, George Ackels escorts a lovely young Tau out of his/her car. Above right, "My dear, who does your hair?" Below right, Vicky Irby comes up for air.

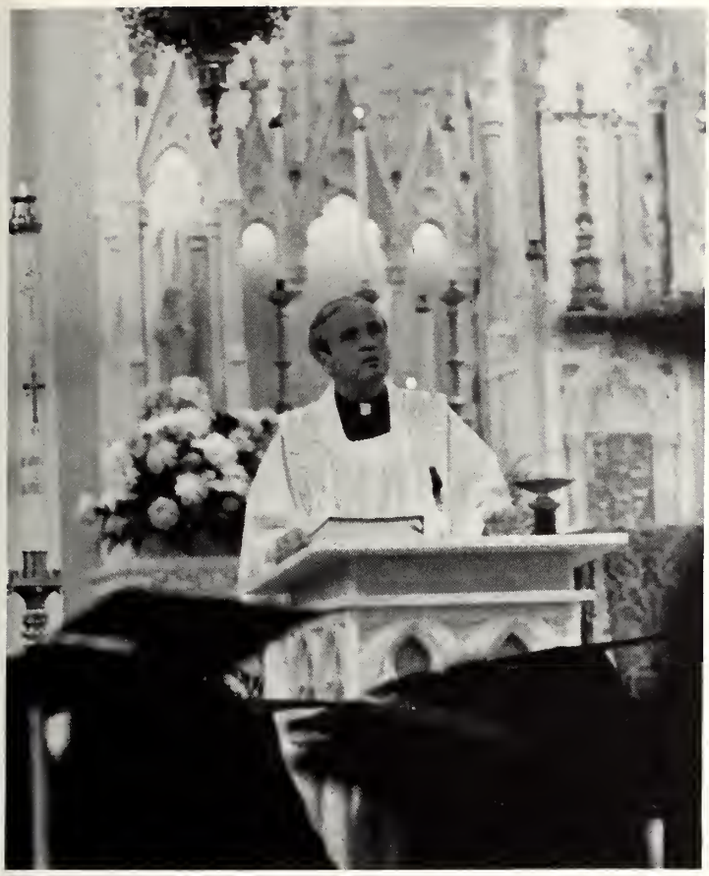
Right, "Ta-dum! I made it!" says Alex Montagnet. Below, The Seniors file into the Chapel for Mass. Is that Munir?



The Baccalaureate Mass was held the Saturday of Graduation Weekend. Left, Featured speaker was Fr. Walter Burghardt, S.J., Professor of Theology at Woodstock College, New York City. Below left, The Baccalaureate Mass was concelebrated with Fr. Tipton as principal celebrant. Directly below, After Mass a Soiree was held on the main portico of the Administration Building.

Below, The Big Four at Commencement, Fr. Burghardt, Fr. Tipton, Bishop May, and Admiral Denton.

Above, Daniel Lee receives his commission in the U.S. Army. His mother and Michelle Gautier pin on his bars. Left, Another honorary degree is awarded to Fr. Burghardt.

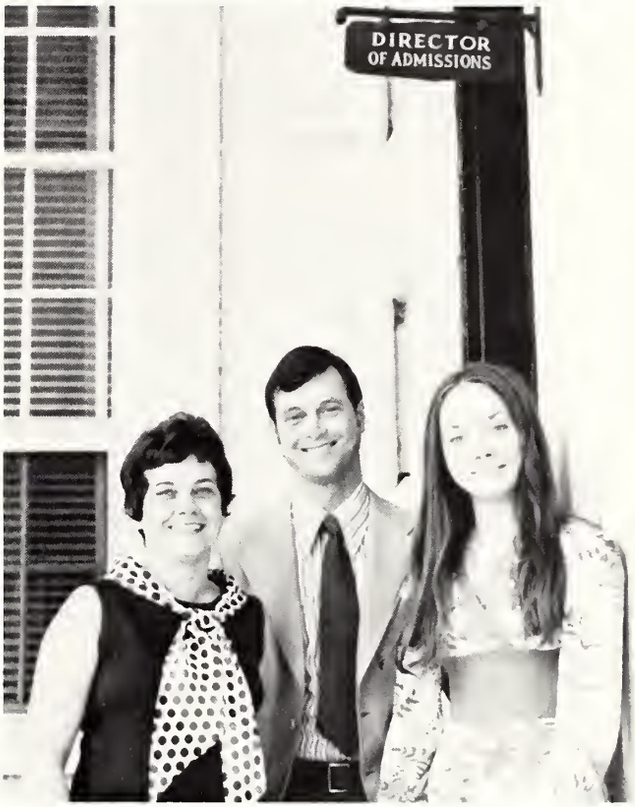
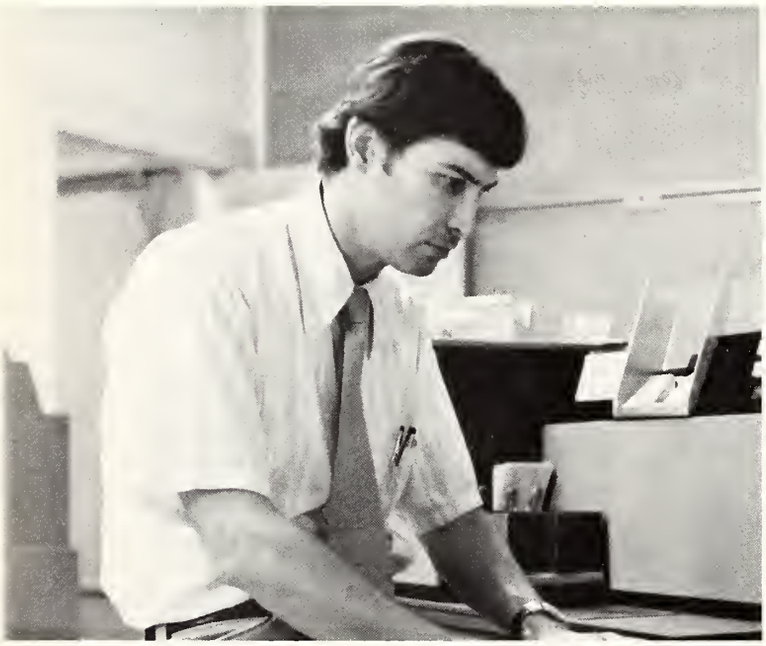
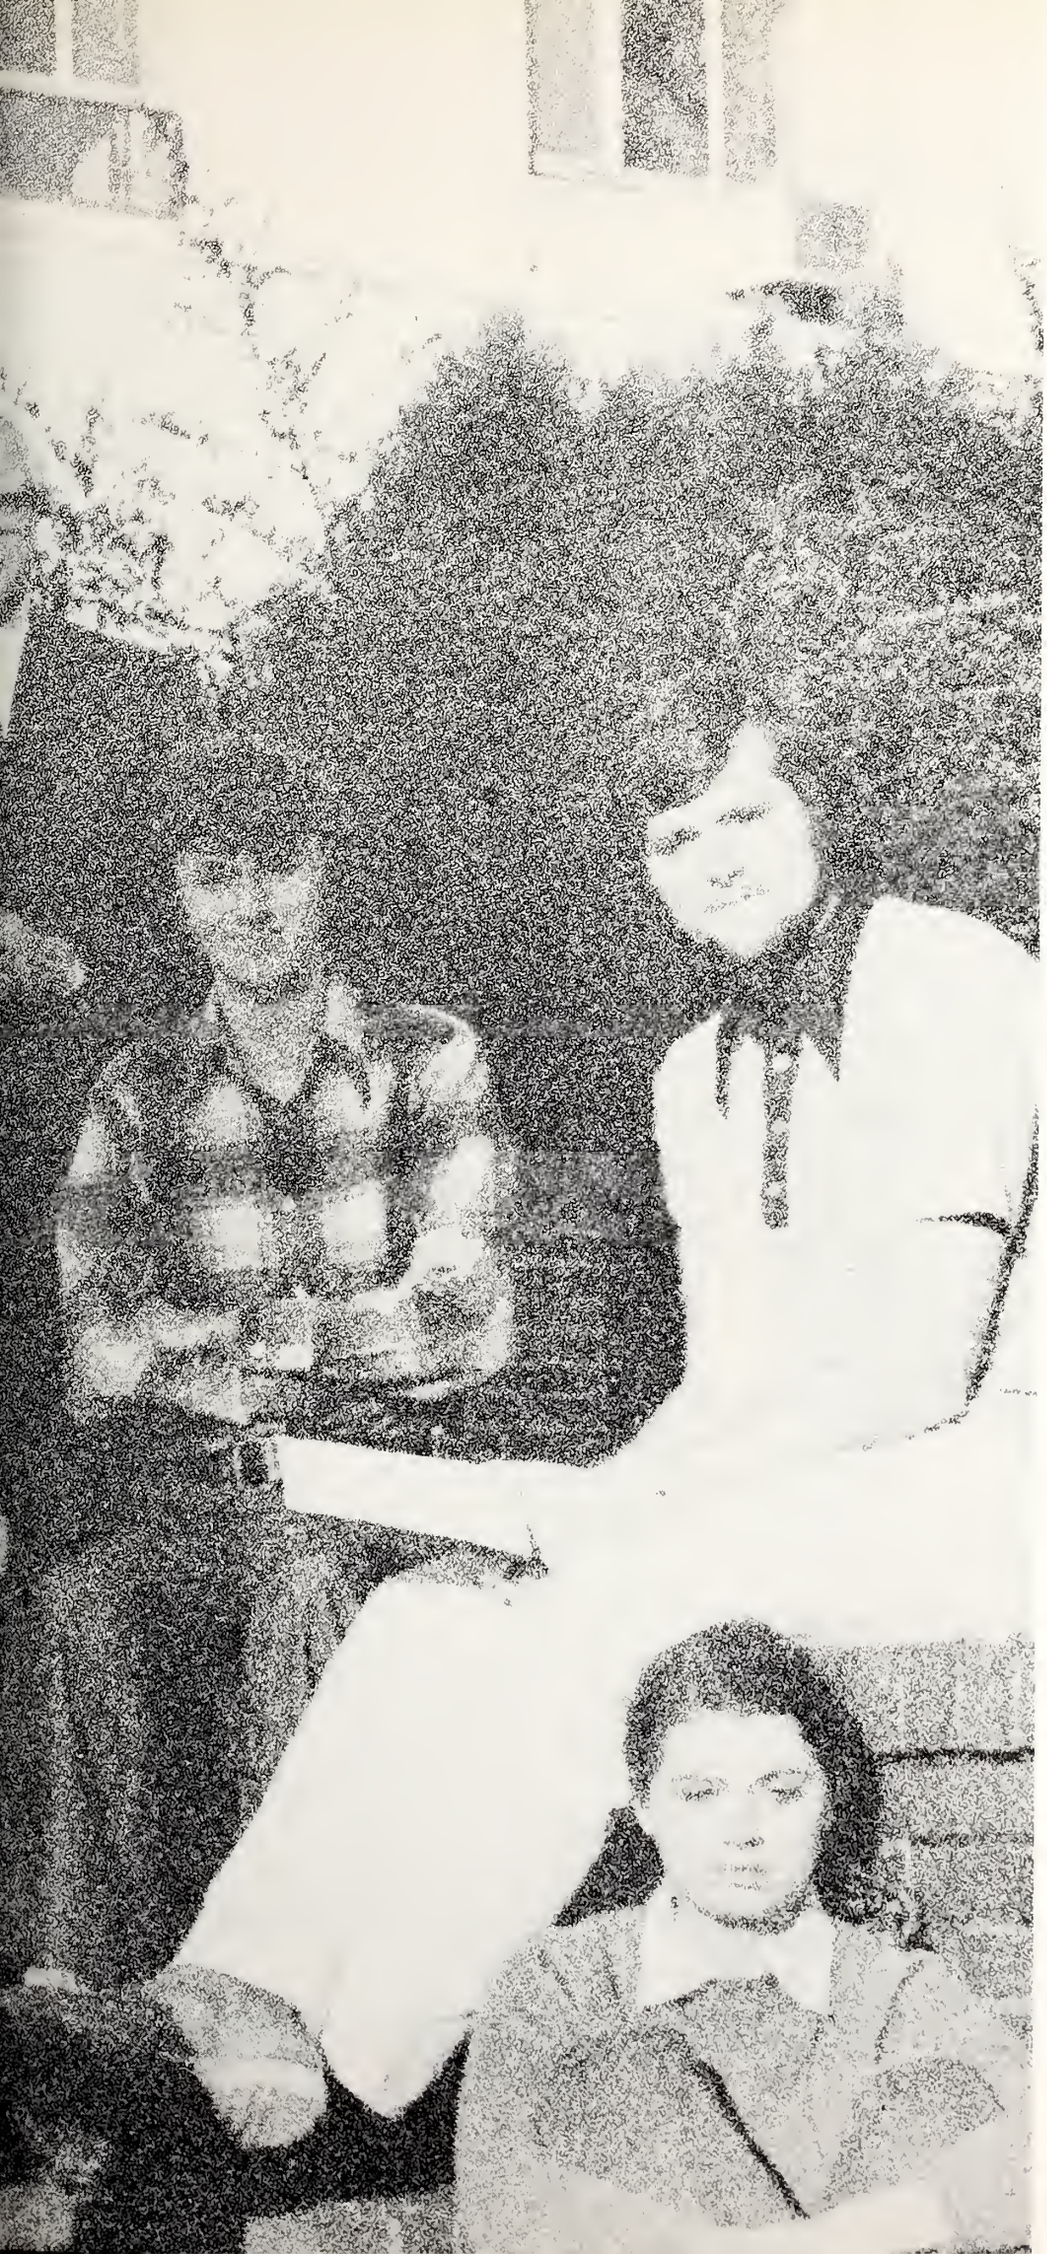
Clockwise, Carol Ann McAleer, Jerry Ware, Theresa Ernest; William Heath, Assistant Academic Dean and Registrar; Robert J. Zietz, Marcia Findley, William O. Livingston, Librarians; R. Sperlin Lowery, Business Manager and Comptroller, M. Cecil Padgett, Director of Financial Aid.



FAMILIAR FACES





ORGANIZATIONS

LAMBDA TAU

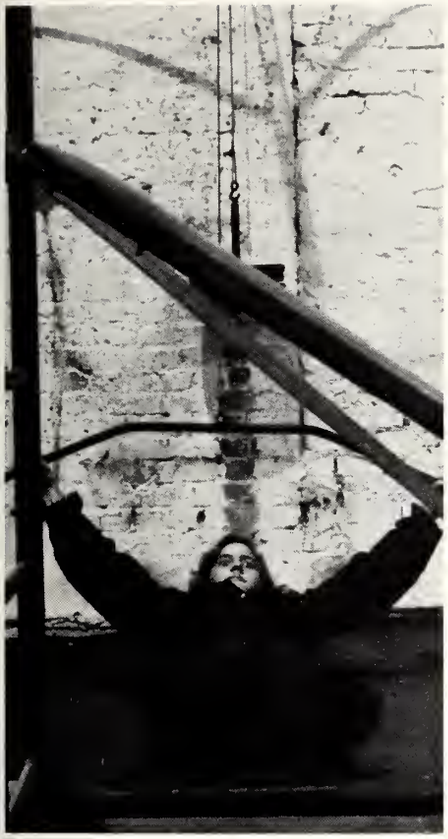
Lambda Tau is the National Medical Technology Honor Society on Spring Hill's campus. Its main function is to promote interest and work in this field. To this end, movies are shown and speakers are present at the meetings.

Fr. Lambert and Jenny Wiles listen to Dr. G. William Wiles' talk at one of the meetings.

Dr. G. William Wiles speaks to the organization on the subject of being a general practitioner.

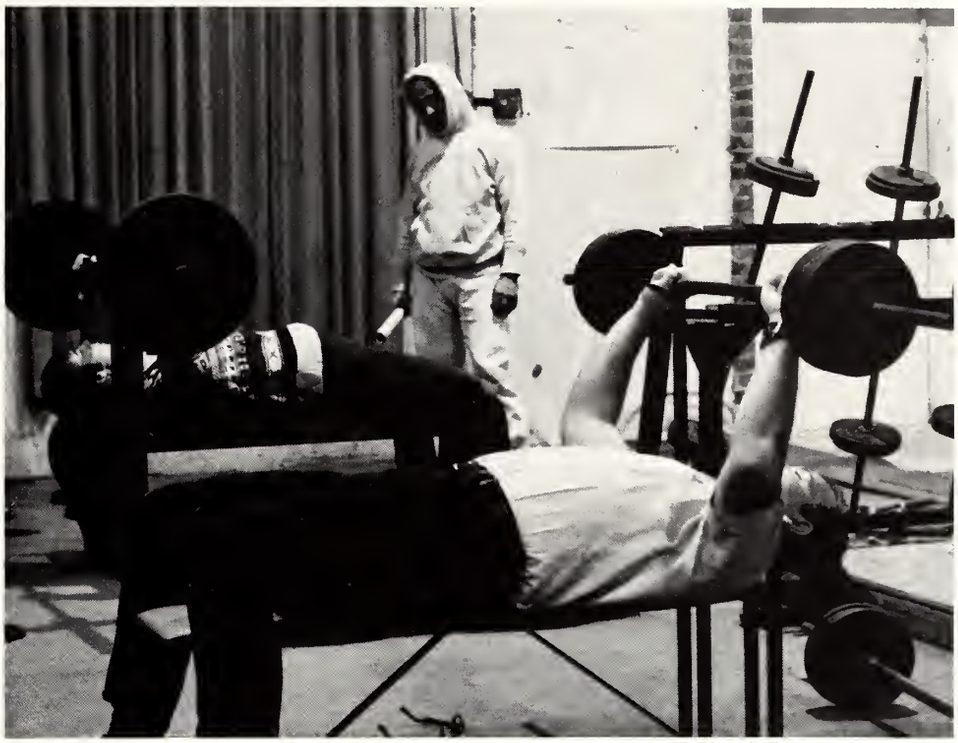
Jenny Wiles, President of Lambda Tau, presides at the meeting.

KEY CLUB



John Angsman makes good use of the fine exercise equipment in the Key Club.

The purpose of the Key Club is to provide the students with the opportunity for physical conditioning through the use of the boxing, weight lifting, and gymnastic equipment.



Moderator, Brother Doherty, S.J., supervises the use of the weights by two of the Key Club members.

Five members engage in a discussion in the Key Club room.

NOVA

Nova is a service organization. It has several branches including Mt. Vernon, Mobile General, Pace, Wilmer Hall, and Head Start. The work is purely voluntary in service to Mobile and the surrounding communities.

"She doesn't seem to be listening any more attentively outside", reflects Christine Graves as she watches Stephanie Prator read to one of the students.

Pat Nolan, Mike Gallagher, and Fred Wilkerson pose in front of Mobile General before going inside to work.

"And now, who can tell me about the Bible story we just read?" asks Tricia Zdanis

Father Cluthe and Sister Rhoda stand in the background as the children make peace signs to the camera.

"Rhonda, do you have a question?" asks Pam Mason after discussing the pictures in the lesson. Mike Gallagher looks on in the background.

MOTLEY

The Motley is the literary publication of Spring Hill. Short stories, poems, book reviews, and other forms of journalism are found in this magazine.

Motley members Steve Campbell, Charlie Smoke, Francisco Stork, Debbie Gulas, Mary Linda Portner, Steve Kaiser, Kathy Burk, Theresa May, Janusz Duzinkiewicz, and Doug Hardenstein strike a position.

SPRINGHILLIAN

The Springhillian is the college newspaper. Its editorials voice the opinions of the students and the faculty on controversial issues. The paper also covers important campus events and Mobile happenings.

Corry Ferrell, Tim Moore, Louie Boland, and Lynn Reuschel lay out pages for one edition of the Springhillian.

"I have to get an idea for a good article," contemplates Tim Moore as he stares off into space.

John Fredericks, and editor-in-chief Tom Roach take time out to share a witty moment.

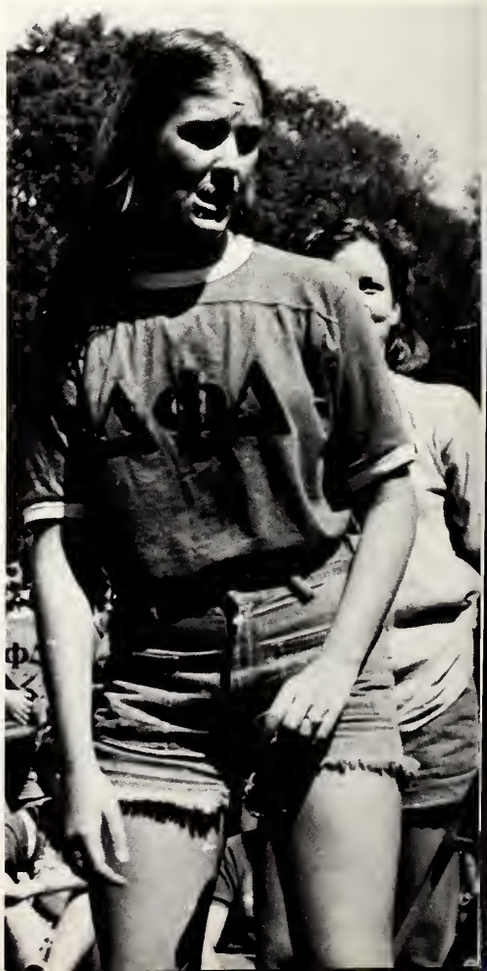
The Deltas raise their banner on high and celebrate Derby Day, led by President, Katy Phelan.



Above, disguises and costumes are all part of Derby Day and Deltas display their spirit. Right, "Who me?" Cheryl Smith anxiously awaits her turn at the next trial.

SIGMA BETA PHI

Balloons, banners and Betas make merry on Derby Day.

Tricia Zdanis takes part in the Presidents' Pillow Fight while onlookers cheer the winner (or loser?)

Debbie Guillot looks apprehensively at what she's fighting to sit on.

GAMMA GAMMA GAMMA

The Gammas arrive for Derby Day displaying their banner on the side of a car.

"I wonder how much weight this log will hold?" ponders President Harriette Hunter as she prepares to take her first step.

"You look mighty familiar", says Magoo to John Mahoney at the Dec-A-Tau.

Patty Gamp pushes another girl into the Volkswagen.

ALPHA DELTA GAMMA

Mike Dean displays the first place trophy awarded to the G's for winning Beer Bowl.

"Hey, how come you don't know any of the answers?" says Juan Garcia to Mike Arnold.

Is that Tina?

John Fredricks pours champagne on one of his brother's head in celebration.

PHI KAPPA THETA

The Kappas from left to right, are: row one; Paul Scripp, John Heffernan, Ray Dempsey, row two: Ed Wyatt, Greg Griffin, Chris Schatzman, Joe Warnecke, John Grady, John McKinley, Bill Sullivan, Pete Andries; row three: Dave Hull, Tim Curtin, Peter Dupuy, Alex Montagnet, Don McGarrah, Steve Kochiss; row four: Jeff Warren, Mike McDermott, Bob Lindergren, Bruce Cote, and Mike Springs.

Jeff Warren, Alex Montagnet, Peter Dupuy, and Dave Hull relax in their fraternity room.

"Won't anybody look at our banner?" begs Ray Dempsey.

OMICRON SIGMA

PHI KAPPA TAU

Several Taus look on during one of the events on Derby Day.

The members of the Chorale are, left to right; row one: Lisa Elkourie, Tricia Zdanis, Terry Cesarano, Kathleen Balthrop, Diane Brown, Kathy Burk, Cheryl Smith; row two; Mary Zinn, Maureen Callaghan, Barbara Bendel, Mary Ann Nolan, Mary Anne Hederman, Debbie Smith, Marta Bendorf; row three: Jack Deere, Mike Sweeting, Geoff Dillon, Nick DiVito, Andrew Findley, John Hasselvander, Howard Davis, Steve Flynn, Willie Robichaux, and Billy Huete.

ALPHA LAMBDA TAU

Alpha Lambda Tau is an organization that promotes academic excellence among women in Spring Hill. To become a member one must have acquired a 3.5 or above cumulative average for the first semester of her freshman year.

Kathleen Balthrop, Colleen Ward, Kathy Yates, and Mary Linda Portner enjoy a relaxing moment of conversation after dinner.

"Yes, you can help", says Mrs. Hudgens to President Patty Joyce at the annual ALT dinner.

Debbie Smith, Christine Graves, Carolyn Coyne, and Donna Bailey, the new members of ALT, eye the club with interest.

PHI ETA SIGMA

Phi Eta Sigma promotes academic excellence among men at Spring Hill. One must have at least a 3.5 at the end of the first semester to become a member of this organization.

Dr. MacNamara and Dr. Arico conduct the business at the PES meeting.

"All these guys have to be smarter than me", contemplates Tim Moore as he watches Merlin Castille, Jose Gutierrez, John Hayes, and Barney Cassidy.

MOBILE CLUB

Where does this door lead?

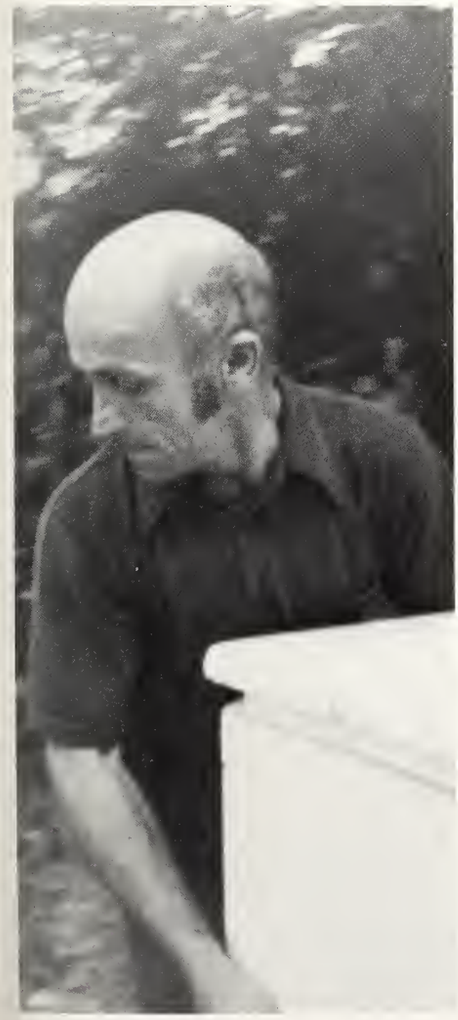
"Gee your hand feels cold, Connie", remarks Carol Segner.

"Hey look I finally got some mail!", says Charlie Demeranville to Pat Hyland and Connie Stanford.

"Dear God . . . Did you call?"

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Do you know these people? Would you believe they are John Baugh, Melissa Wold, Billy Huete, Roland Allen, Dave Andrus, Mary Ann Nolan, Diane Brown, and Barbara Bendel?



"I didn't know beer was this heavy", moans Brother Doherty as he carries an ice chest at a K of C outing.

"Boy, this sure beats the cafeteria", says President Joe Byrne.

PORTIER DEBATING SOCIETY

The Debate Squad, coached by Mrs. Bettie Hudgens, had a successful year, winning over fifty per cent of their debates. The team of Mary Emma Ackels and Julie Boggan placed in the top sixteen out of 119 teams of the Nation's best at Northwestern University. First place at the tournament held at Mississippi State College for Women was taken by the team of Julie Boggan and Joe DiVito.

ROTC

ROTC acquaints Spring Hill students with the armed forces. Through various drills, the student becomes familiar with the use and care of rifles. The program is aimed at giving the student a better conception of the armed forces.

John Coradini, Mrs. Kuntz, K.K. Perkins, John Marten, Jay York, Sid Leak, Moose Gamp, Ned Burke, Ron Sellers, and Mr. Burns discuss the important ideas of the last meeting.

SAILING CLUB

Vincent Arbour explains techniques in sailing to Raoul Robichaux and Mary Pat Hellrung.

The Sailing Club has been around for a couple of years now, but Mike McWilliams has really made it grow. The club's membership has tripled and has already competed in a few weekend races. Next year they are looking forward to collegiate competition. With added participation and more boats, the Sailing Club will be skimming along. In the mean time they must settle for other types of sailing.

Coach Stan Galle's Badgers finished their regular season with a 18-9 record—enough to clinch the Southern States Conference title and a berth in the NAIA District 27 tournament. Out of the four teams playing in this tournament, held in Birmingham, Alabama, Spring Hill was the fourth-seeded team. Defeating both Birmingham Southern and Bellehaven enabled the Badgers to advance to the Region 7 playoffs, also in Birmingham. The team's hopes for a slot in the finals of the national tournament were dashed by losses to John Brown University and Shorter College. The Badgers ended the season with a 21-11 record, Coach Galle was named SCC Coach of the Year, and Mike Dean, Mike Callero, and Tim Size were All-Conference selections.

A frequent visitor to the Spring Hill campus, alumni Sidney Simon is found among the spectators at a baseball game.
